

5 Year Analysis of Hispanic Trends

---

Research Brief #30

Fall 2016

The Hispanic population is one of the fastest growing populations in the United States. This research brief reports the Hispanic enrollment of Southeastern undergraduate students from Fall 2011 to Fall 2015. So far, the largest undergraduate Hispanic population occurred in 2015 (n=939). These students represented 7% of the undergraduate population. Colleges with the steadiest increases are:

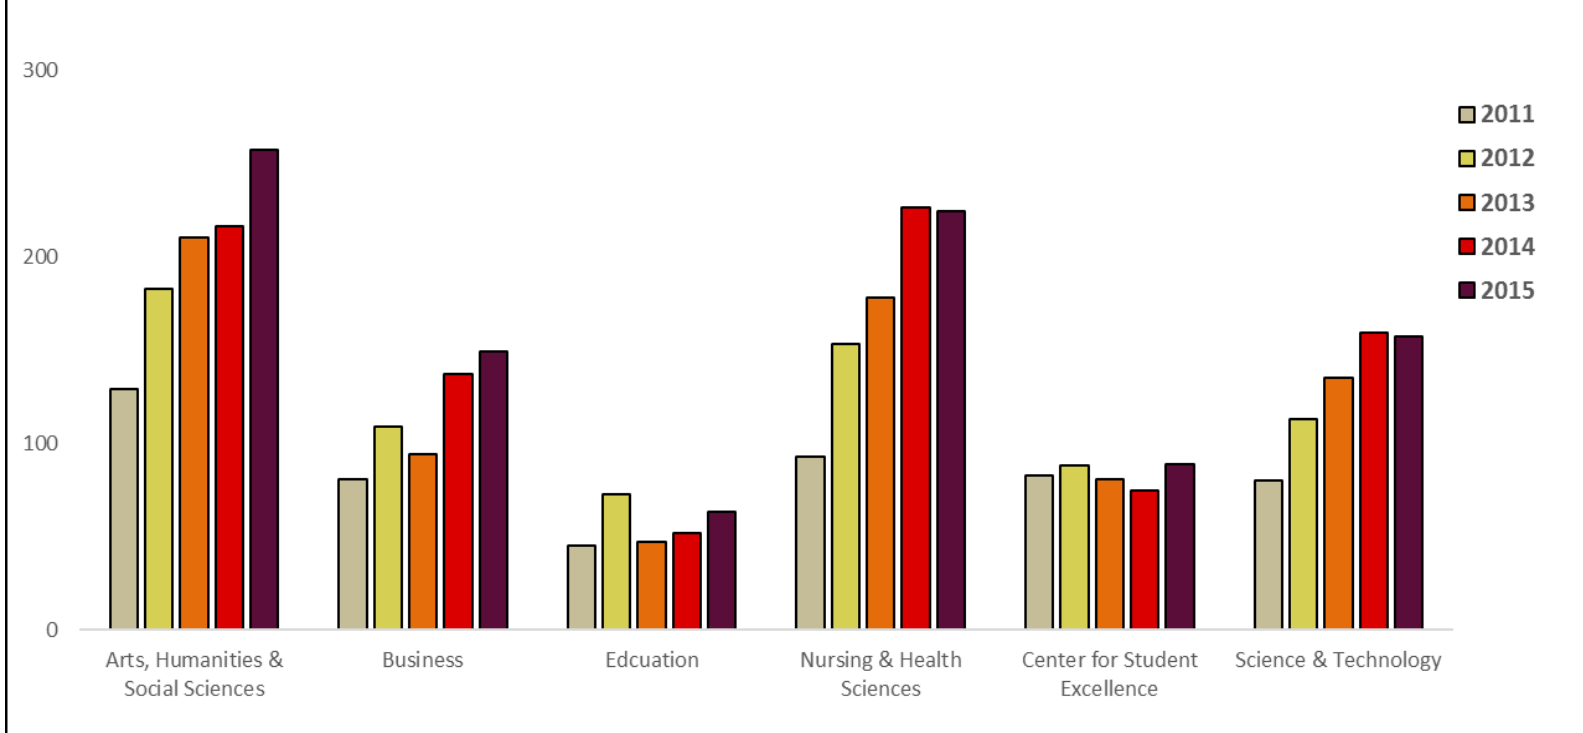

- Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences
- Nursing & Health Sciences
- Science & Technology

Undergraduate Hispanic Students Over 5 Years

Year	Frequency	Percent of Enrollment
Fall 2011	511	3.6%
Fall 2012	721	5.0%
Fall 2013	746	5.4%
Fall 2014	865	6.5%
Fall 2015	939	6.9%

Yearly Totals by College

	Fall 2011	Fall 2012	Fall 2013	Fall 2014	Fall 2015
Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences	129	183	210	216	257
Business	81	109	94	137	149
Education	45	73	47	52	63
Nursing & Health Sciences	93	153	178	226	224
Center for Student Excellence	83	88	81	75	89
Science & Technology	80	113	135	159	157

- The College of Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences continues to grow steadily in Hispanic students. In the Fall of 2012, the college had its largest increase from Fall 2011 (30% (n=54)). The college increased its Hispanic population by 49.8% (n=128) over the past 5 years.
- The College of Business increased its Hispanic students by 45.6% (n=68) over the past 5 years. The largest increase came in the Fall of 2014 (13% (n=15)) after a significant drop in enrollment the previous year.
- The College of Education increased its Hispanic students by 29% (n=18) over the past 5 years. There was a 38% (n=28) increase in Fall 2012 from Fall 2011.
- The College of Nursing & Health Sciences increased its Hispanic students by 58.5% (n=131) over the past 5 years. The largest increase was in Fall 2012(39.0% (n=60)) from the previous year.
- The College of Science & Technology increased its Hispanic students by 49.0% (n=77) over the past 5 years. Its largest increase occurred in Fall 2012 from the previous year (29.0% (n=33)).
- The Center for Student Excellence houses students who have not declared a major. The center increased its Hispanic students by 6.7% (n=6) over the past 5 years.