Method

Participants

A total of 1000 surveys were sent electronically via SurveyMonkey to a randomly selected sample of students who were enrolled at Southeastern in the Fall of 2007. The students were stratified by sex, class (freshmen, sophomore, junior, senior and graduate student), race (white or minority), and whether they lived on campus or off campus. The sample mirrored the student body on these characteristics.

Of the 1000 surveys distributed, 4 were returned as non-deliverable. Of the 996 remaining surveys, 214 were completed for a response rate of 22%. Analysis of the variables of stratification revealed that there were differences between the returned and non-returned surveys in sex and class. A significantly larger proportion of females returned the survey than did males ($\chi^2(1)=9.17$ $p<.01$). At the class level, a significantly larger proportion of graduates returned the survey than did undergraduates ($\chi^2(1)=10.05$ $p<.01$). When only the undergraduates were analyzed, upper level students (juniors and seniors) had a significantly larger proportion of returns that did lower level students (freshmen and sophomores) ($\chi^2(3)=18.05$ $p<.01$).

Of the 214 returned surveys, 72% (n=155) were female and 28% (n=59) were male. The vast majority (78%, n=166) were White, Non-Hispanic, while 16% (n=35) were Black Non-Hispanic, 3% (n=7) were other minorities, and 3% (n=6) did not report their race. The average age of respondents was 25.5. Twenty-three percent (n=49) were freshmen, 12% (n=26) were sophomores, 21% (n=44) were juniors, 29% (n=61) were seniors, and 16% (n=34) were graduate students. The majority of the respondents were in the College of Education & Human Development (21%, n=44), while 19% (n=40) were in the College of Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences, 16% (n=35) were in the College of Business, 4% (n=9) were in the Division of General Studies, 20% (n=42) were in the College of Nursing & Health Sciences, 14% (n=30) were in the College of Science & Technology, 5% (n=10) were in the Center for Student Excellence and 2% (n=4) were in the Graduate School. The following figures provide a comparison of the population to the respondents.

Procedure

The survey was conducted using SurveyMonkey. Students were contacted via e-mail in November 2007. Students who did not respond were sent reminder e-mails about a week apart, for a total of three reminder e-mails.

Instrument

The survey was developed in conjunction with representatives from the Student Government Association (SGA), Student Affairs and staff from the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment. The areas addressed in the survey were:

- Student Activities and Student Life. This section addressed student satisfaction and use of student services, program, activities, and offices. As well as how student's spend their time, campus involvement, and general student perceptions and satisfaction.
- Your Family and Job. Demographic information that is not readily available through the Student Record System was included in this section.

A complete copy of the survey items can be found in Appendix A.

Results

Student Activities and Student Life

The first part asked respondents to indicate how important they thought various student services, program, activities and offices were. In addition they were asked to indicate whether they were aware of the service, if so, if they had used the service, and if they had used the service, how satisfied they were with the service. Overall, respondents thought Textbook Rental was the most important service (mean=4.8) and Greek Affairs was the least important (mean=2.7). In terms of awareness of the various services, Veteran Student Services had the highest level of respondents being unaware of the service (23%). Veteran Student Services had the lowest percentage of usage (20%) while Textbook Rental had the highest percentage of usage (98%). Of those students who have used the service, Textbook Rental had the highest level of satisfaction (mean=4.6) and Greek Affairs had the lowest level of satisfaction (mean=3.0). Tables 1-46 provide overall results for each item as well as demographic breakdowns.

It is also important to look at the discrepancy between the importance of a service and the satisfaction with the service. If a service is rated as very important, but satisfaction is very low, this indicates an area which needs to be addressed. Table 47 provides the mean difference between ratings of importance and ratings of satisfaction with each service, program, or activity. Students who responded “Haven’t Used” or “Unaware” for a service were not included in this analysis. The possible range is -4 to +4, with a negative number indicating a higher perceived importance than satisfaction. A positive number indicates that satisfaction is higher than importance. For example, if a student rated a service as Very Important (5) and rated satisfaction as Very Dissatisfied (1) then the difference rating would be -4.

The next question asked respondents how often during the current academic year, they had attended a variety of campus events and activities. Overall, respondents were most likely to have attended plays (45%) and least likely to have attended religious activities (22%). Tables 48-57 provide information on all participants' attendance at each event/activity as well as demographic breakdowns.

Leisure activities include socializing with friends, watching TV, exercising/sports and recreational computer use. Tables 58-65 provide overall results for each item, as well as demographic breakdowns.

Student Characteristics

The majority of respondents were single (n=134, 63%), while 26% (n=55) were married, and 4% (n=2) were previously married. Also, the majority of students had no children (n=150, 70%), while 9% (n=19) had one child, 7% (n=15) had two children, 4% (n=8) had three children and 1% (n=2) had four or more children.

Traditional college students are often considered to be single undergraduate students with no children between the ages of 18 and 22. However, due to changing societal and economic conditions, more non-traditional students are entering into universities. Defining non-traditional undergraduate students as those students who are over the age of 22 or married or have children, 40% (n=72) of the undergraduate respondents were non-traditional students, while 60% (n=108) were traditional students.

The survey results support the notion that Southeastern has a large commuter population. The majority of respondents (33%, n=71) travel more than 30 miles (one way) to Southeastern's main campus. The breakdown for travel to campus can be found in Table 97.

Table 97
Miles traveled one way to Southeastern's main campus

| Miles Traveled | Percent | Number of Respondents |
|-------------------------|---------|-----------------------|
| Live on Campus | 10% | 21 |
| Less than 5 miles | 12% | 25 |
| Between 5 and 10 miles | 11% | 24 |
| Between 11 and 20 miles | 13% | 28 |
| Between 21 and 30 miles | 11% | 25 |
| More than 30 miles | 33% | 71 |

Seventy-one percent (61%, n=130) of the respondents received financial aid during the 2007-2008 academic year. The majority of students (56%, n=119) work off campus, while 14% (n=30) work on campus, 4% (n=8) work both on and off campus, and 17% (n=37) do not work at all. Of those students who indicated they worked, 13% (n=20) work no more than 10 hours per week, 27% (n=42) work 11-20 hours per week, 24% (n=37) work 21-30 hours per week, and 36% (n=56) work more than 30 hours per week.

According to Terenzini et. al (1996), a first generation student is one who has no parent with any college or university experience. Using this definition, 26% (n=49) of our students are first generation college students. An additional 26% (n=50) have a least one parent with some college, but no degree. Eight percent (8%, n=16) have one parent with an Associate degree, 20% (n=39) have one parent with a Bachelor's degree, and 17% (n=33) have a parent with a graduate or professional degree.

Comments

The last page of the survey was reserved for respondents to make any other comments they wished to share. All of the comments are presented below. The comments are provided verbatim, no editing was done.

- I really appreciated the tutoring labs that are available. They really do offer a helpful hand to those students who are willing to make the extra effort. More activities and such should be organized for the non-traditional students, because there are a great number of non-traditional students at Southeastern. Overall, I have been very pleased with SLU and would recommend this school to anyone.
- I tend to study outside above the food court, and during finals I found it difficult to study due to the music that was playing so loud outside. I enjoy it, but I feel it should be turned off during a week where everyone is mostly concerned about studying rather than the music playing.
- The Baton Rouge computer programs is very slow and is not a place that I want to use, but I still have to pay for the slow working computers.
- Please be fair and just. Don't let the school be sexist in any matter. More promotion of every up coming activity.
- Parking is bad and the SLU police do not make it better. Students need better resources as far as parking, studying materials, financial aid and willingness to help them get better grades. The new rule for the drop/add period is not very helpful to the students and shows no respect for their wants and need here at this campus.
- Parking is the most annoying thing about SLU. It's terrible!
- Also, the survey did not ask any questions about the services at SLU that cause me the most grief...so here they are: any type of fees or services that have to be paid must be done in person at the controllers office, this is very inconvenient!!!! Yes, I know you can mail in a late fee for the library and maybe other fees, but if you need to pay a fee quickly, you are SOL!!! For example, say you have run out of prints in the computer lab at 11:00pm, can't add more through any online service, you must go to the controllers office during business hours to do this, very inconvenient, not to mention the parking situation!!!!!! Also, I have always felt that there is an overall general tone of NO CONSIDERATION FOR THE STUDENT for any and all services at SLU!!!! By this I mean that, while the instructors and academics make students who are truly trying to advance their education feel worthy, valuable and appreciated, almost every experience I have had with the administration
- I am a social studies major and I have had a rough time dealing with the education department. Each semester I have to wait to schedule classes due to my degree GPA having to be considered. Without late registration I have been unable to get into much needed classes. I think this is a problem that needs to be addressed.
- I would like to comment on campus police, well who knows where the ticket writing started from, but I would like to get a clear understanding as to why I have been parking on campus after 4pm for the last three years I've been at Southeastern and one night campus police decide to give tickets to students without hand tags at 11pm. I don't understand the total harassment thing that went on for a brief moment because I haven't seen them on campus giving tickets since. On top of that, I was issued a handicap ticket also but was parked in between two white lines. I took pictures showing proof and all and was denied my appeal. I can't seem to understand the commitment that is supposed to be among the Southeastern family because of selective actions. Actions are taken when it is convenient for them at that time.

- there should be more advertisement of the school to attract more students.
- I loved Southeastern as an undergraduate and continue to enjoy it as a graduate student. I feel that I have received the highest quality education and have made lifelong connections with future colleagues.
- I don't feel that SLU is here for my education but rather to make a profit and become more and more greedy. I just want my degree and would gladly make a one time loan of $100,000 to be finished with this school. If profits are all you are worried about please contact me and I will sign a check for the above amount in exchange for my degree.
- I hate dealing with the records department. Transcripts should not be this freaking hard to obtain. You would do well to look to LSU for a good model of how to get a transcript. Also the pettiness in the bureaucracy needs to be addressed. Little people in little jobs should not treat everyone else like garbage.
- More Courses need to be offered at the St. Tammany site.
- I attend classes off campus. My experience has been pretty positive so far. However, I think that communication is lacking in some areas. For example, whenever I called the records office for answers, I kept getting different answers. Another example is that I rented textbooks, and was told that a charge for them would be placed on my account but it would come off the account when I returned the books. I was NEVER told renting textbooks would put me out of early registration. When I contacted the controller's office, they suggested I pay for the books or return them to the rental department in order to complete early registration. I didn't have the extra money to do so at the time and I still needed my books for class, so I wasn't able to participate in early registration.
- I think that some of the things that we as students have to pay for is wrong. The fact that things keep going up and SGA is wasting millions of dollars on things like the stupid fountain is wrong. The fountain is not that pretty. I think the hills being placed by Fayard Hall are a waste of money. I think that the cigarette butts everywhere are horrible looking. My favorite and prettiest place on campus is by friendship oak and we need more trees like that around campus because they are beautiful. I think that Greek Organizations get away with too much on campus and ones like Alpha Sigma Tau, TKE, Theta Xi, and KA should be kicked off campus for hazing and doing other horrible things that they do to their members. I also think that Text book rentals need to get all the book for classes because I love having to rent the books instead of buying them.
- I feel that the counseling dept. at Southeastern should be given more funding to expand and improve. It is a great program with crappy resources.
- Southeastern is a great school. I have learned so much and met so many wonderful people.
- Some of the faculty on campus are very caring and committed, and others are not. They should be held accountable...not just the teachers but everyone. For example, the food court's staff is extremely rude and prejudiced. The financial aid advisor is not too willing to help. Some teachers could care less about the students and care way too much about grades and how the department looks. However, I do enjoy Southeastern, and I think that although the school could improve, it is an above average university.

- I am a working adult, age 44, returning to college to complete my Bachelor's degree and then my Masters in Business. I work a 40+ hour work week, take night classes and will begin some day classes next semester. I have little association with campus events or organizations due to time constraints as well as travel issues.
- I really enjoy how the faculty/staff here are committed to the students. I have found the faculty here to be one of the best things about this school and there are several professors/staff workers that I feel very comfortable with.
- The quality of instruction for most classes is very strong. There are a few instructors who wish to get in there and get out without any care about the growth of the student. The Financial Aid Office is the main source of the feeling that no one cares. Several of my award letters over the years have been lost by workers, and it has been a struggle to make sure that everything goes through in time to receive my financial aid. Also, money seems to be spent unisely, such as the Katrina fountain by SGA. Not enough research goes into how money is spent. Many student organizations decide to begin a collection for a cause, but thier cause does not seem like it was thought out. Their efforts could have been put toward something more useful. Perhaps documented in depth research should be a requirement for these organizations when asking for or using money.
- I truly enjoy being a student at Southeastern. I have never felt as though I am just a number.
- I have e4njoyed being a graduate student this semester.
- I think the financial aid office should give financial aid to more people who need it, because alot of people are cheating the system.
- If not for Southeastern, I probably would have dropped out of college. I had a horrible experience at LSU and SLU made me feel welcome from the moment I stepped on campus. The only complaint I have is my current EASC 101 professor. I have had bad professors before, but she is by far the worst I have ever had. She teaches the class as if everyone is a science major, and ridicules us for not understanding what she is teaching if we ask a question. She even had the gall to tell the entire class about 6 weeks ago that she hated us all!!! The worst part is this is her first year teaching. We have asked for help in studying and she refuses to assist us. All three exams we have taken so far have been approximately 70 slides long in Power Point. I believe when the class average is a very low "D" something needs to be done. Any feedback on this problem would be helpful.
- I think their should be more activities that interest students.
- Over the last 2 years I have seen SLU show more pride in it's campus, students and student organizations. However I do feel that there are a large number of professors, specifically in the college of business that have been there for a long time and just teach what the book says or what there experience was before they retired from the professional world, not what is currently happening in the world of business. I also believe SELU needs to explore adding more internet classes and more upper level classes at a variety of times, i.e. evenings and weekends. Especially in the College of Business where it seems as though the majority of students work part-time and many cases full time to support their college education and a larger variety in class times would make this easier.

- I have had two teachers make me learn things; all of my other classes have been read and regurgitate, forget as soon as the test is over...what kind of learning system is that?
- Southeastern wastes too much money on activities that only promote the wrong activities of this world.
- Do not lower admission standards to raise minority entrance. You will dumb down my diploma
- I am very dissatisfied with the records department, they lost my shot records 3 times. I think that SLU is mostly concerned with money
- That it is hard to find the RAs here in the dormitories and things sometimes do not get fixed because the quad outlet in room 210 in Taylor is still out since the beginning of the fall semester.
- I am severely asthmatic and allergic to smoking. It is against the rules in many areas to smoke, but it is not enforced at all and people break the rules all the time. I hate that because it upsets my breathing and I'm constantly coughing because I have to pass through lots of smokers every day just to get to class. Also, I hate how I do not have access to the elevator in D. Vickers. I have to walk the 3 flights of stairs and by then I have just crossed campus and this exertion usually makes me have to gasp for air every flight of stairs and often induces an asthma attack and makes me even later for class because I have to wait until my breathing calms down to move. Also, the campus is ugly with all the construction and lazy construction workers. It gets uglier every year. The gameroom staff, mainly the middle aged woman, is very rude. The campus also is not very clean, including bathrooms and I've heard that D.Vicker's 2nd floor men's room is the worst from other students. The financial aid office
- Financial aid is terrible. I get letters stating I was on probation and after a week of phone calls to several staff members I learned the letter was a mistake. No one seemed to know what they were doing or how to answer any questions. The staff was very incompetent. I am a student with disabilities and cannot always make it to class, the college as a whole (not the disabilities department but the other staff and programs) is very unconcerned and very hard to work with. Since I have started at this college, every semester has been a struggle and there is some issue either with paperwork or financial aid at the college's fault. For as much as tuition costs shouldn't I be able to go to class without the stress of what this college can screw up? Why am I paying for crap I will never use? I have never been to any sporting events (nor will I) yet I pay for the cheerleaders? Why do students have to take out multiple loans and work multiple jobs to pay for choir, magazines, etc that we do not need? We are here t
- One problem I have is with the limited # of sections of required classes for seniors. Another is that if you receive financial aid that does not fully pay your tuition, the amount you owe is not shown on Leonet until a day or so before the fee deadline. This makes for a difficult situation for students on a limited budget. Also, the student office workers could be more knowledgeable and be more willing to help.
- As a graduate student who commutes, I feel less connected to the Southeastern culture. Also, I was interested in joining a Greek organization, but there is nothing offered to grad students.
- Southeastern does a fairly good job overall of providing a quality education to its students. It is a leader in text book rental, the Southeastern channel, Internet classes, and close circuit classrooms in the Saint Tammany Center for which they deserve kudos! However, there are two areas with which I strongly disagree with university policy. It makes me very angry to see the fees that are added into our tuition that are utter nonsense and should never have happened. Fees for cheerleaders, Lionette Spirit Fee, Academic Excellence Fee, Academic Enhancement, SGA Capital Outlay, Intramural Fee, Student Government Association, Student Publication Fee, the Alumni Association are a waste of money. If we are to pay for academic excellence, then it should be part of the tuition not a separate fee. Another waste of funds, particularly for those who receive financial aid, is the disregard of transfer credits. An Associates Degree earned at a Louisiana two-year or junior college should allow a student to start as a

- The controllers office has a bad habit of adding last minute fees to a student's account which screws up a lot of things. Southeastern should give the option of being able to at least see the schedule of classes for the next semester so a student can make a detailed plan for that semester. Southeastern should offer the amount of prints a student has in the labs because each semester I've used up no more than 2% of my allocated prints while Southeastern has already been paid that money and honestly I think they do it on purpose to make a profit. The maintenance in the dorms especially north campus is weak. Once a report has been made, it takes two to three weeks to even see the problem and most of the time they don't even come in at all even when more than one call is made. My room was given to me in a bad condition and maintenance never bothered to come in and fix it like they said they would, which is very unprofessional.
- Please correct some spelling and the same questions seem to get repeated it.
- I am not your traditional student. I am older and now trying college which has been a rewarding choice for me. I would encourage all students to get the most they can out of college while they are young and able to enjoy the benefits more.
- The standards of Education are extremely poor at this university. I have discovered throughout my time here that faculty and staff are more focused on politics and making up new and highly inconveniencing rules to even remotely preform the job they are being paid to do: educate the customers (students). I have found myself repeatedly without resources to help me through these various and sudden new regulations. Although the staff will generally smile and be the very image of courtesy and compassion, they offer no help and can only look at you, smiling, and say, "I'm sorry." This is extremely unacceptable and I will never encourage my friends and family to attend this university.
- I hate dealing with the administration and campus police at this school. It is insane, they are rude, not helpful, and it takes a week to get anything done. Im also sick of these bullshit tickets that those freaking rent a cops keep writing to students who pay good money to get an education here!
- There is so much red tape involved in anything we do on campus. Quit treating us like 3rd graders and let us control our own education.
- I really like Southeastern, but there have been way too many issues with the Financial Aid Department. Bad service, lost documents, tons of red tape to get basic issues taken care of, not to mention a severe lack of concern for who is being helped. This has happened to me, others in my family, and many, many friends of mine. And it is consistent for every semester I've attended Southeastern. This has got to change before anything else. Second, the only reason I do not attend more cultural events and film screenings is that they take place when I have classes and are never offered during non-conflicting times. Third, more food choices on campus with lower prices. Fourth, there needs to be another option than the current bookstore. At other universities, the prices are reduced and benefit the students, who may not have much money as it is. However, Southeastern's bookstore is unbelievably expensive, and many people have to order online to get reasonable prices, sometimes with new books cost
