

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

The Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures offers majors in French and Spanish to enable students to meet the state certification requirements in those fields and to qualify them to pursue higher degrees in these same fields in graduate schools.

ENTRANCE INTO FOREIGN LANGUAGE COURSES

Students who have taken two or more years of foreign language in High School or have grown up speaking a language other than English may seek entrance into foreign language courses numbered 102, 201, 202, and advanced level (300 and above) by receiving a passing grade on the appropriate departmental entrance test. These tests are offered at designated times during registration period. Tests at each level in each language may be taken only once by a given student. Entrance tests are not credit exams and carry absolutely no academic credit. A student who is permitted to enter a course above the 101 level on the basis of entrance testing may receive a grade of "P" in the course(s) he or she is permitted to skip over, if and when the student receives a passing grade in the course into which entrance has been permitted.

PRIMARY TEACHING AREA

For a primary teaching area in Spanish or French, the requirement is twenty-four (24) semester hours in advanced courses (300 or above) in one language. A student who scores "Intermediate High" on the ACTFL Proficiency Exam may submit that score in lieu of the requirement of study immersion or one year abroad, as required above.
