Southeastern Louisiana University's Business Research Center (BRC) is jointly operated by the Southeast Louisiana Business Center and the College of Business. The BRC provides applied economic analysis and research studies that aide business and economic development efforts for the five Florida parishes in southeast Louisiana. The center represents one aspect of the university's commitment to economic development in the region.

The Center is located in the Southeast Louisiana Business Center on Martens drive two blocks west of the main campus. The Business Research Center is a proud member of the Association of University Business and Economic Research (AUBER) (www.auber.org). This association is dedicated to the advancement and dissemination of applied business and economic research.

The following study or analysis is a compilation of secondary data and was collected and presented using generally accepted research methods, models and techniques. Funding for this project was provided by Southeastern Louisiana University's Business Research Center.

The North Shore Labor Summary

Louisiana's North Shore has benefited in the past decade from increased migration in population, jobs, and the resulting economic changes. Due to Hurricane Katrina, no reliable population projections are available for the North Shore or the state of Louisiana. In fact, there has been much debate as to the accuracy of the Census Bureau's recently released population estimates. Accurate population numbers for the state will probably not be available for another six months. Similarly, the impact of Hurricane Katrina on Louisiana's industries will also not be fully assessed for another year. However, pre-Katrina industry data and estimates for industry growth are readily available.

Profile of Job Market

The Louisiana Department of Labor provides information on the major industries located in each parish in the state. The most recent data available is based on the second quarter of 2005. Below are the major industries for Tangipahoa, St. Tammany, and Livingston Parish. The largest industry in the three parish region is Health Care and Social Assistance with 21,536 employees. This is followed by Retail Trade (20,414) and Accommodation and Food Services (13,745). It should be noted that information on Education Services is only available for Tangipahoa Parish, where it is the third largest industry. Data on other parishes in the state can be found on the Louisiana Works website at:

Predicted Trends in Industries and Occupations

The Department of Labor projects job growth based on Regional Labor Market Areas (RLMA) . RLMA 2 includes Ascension, East Baton Rouge, East Feliciana, Iberville, Livingston, Pointe Coupee, St. Helena, Tangipahoa, Washington, West Baton Rouge and West Feliciana. Appendix A provides information on expected change in all industries from 2000-2010 for the RLMA 2. RLMA 1 is also relevant to Southeastern in that it includes Jefferson, Orleans, Plaquemines, St. Bernard, St. Charles, St. James, St. John, and St. Tammany. Projected industry change for RLMA 1 can be found in Appendix B.
