Degree Program: Curriculum and Instruction
Review of MFA Results
2004-2005

Major field assessment results from all assessment criteria are discussed as needed through program committees such as reading, special education, etc. to ensure a systematic review. Each semester, comprehensive exam committees for each concentration meet to discuss exam results and the use of data to improve the program, instruction, and candidate assessment. Follow-up meetings are held to analyze patterns of candidate performance in order to make changes in the program. In addition, external information from the exit survey of graduates is considered annually and was a valuable resource in the graduate redesign of its programs.
