2015 - 2016 Highlights

- » The Honors Program at Southeastern offers curricular and co-curricular opportunities that help students to know and understand the significant ideas and events that have shaped our world and will shape the future; to have confidence in their ability to think independently, write clearly, and speak effectively; and to develop the skills to be leaders in their communities and professions.

- » Honors courses were taught in many areas in 2015-16 including: Art, English, History, Humanities, Psychology, Rhetoric, and Science
- » Nine Senior theses were presented in public forums. The disciplines in which the theses were completed attest to the breadth of the Honors Program: Art, Creative Writing, Economics, English, History, Political Science, and Psychology
- » Honors graduates in 2015-16 were admitted to a number of graduate and professional schools including California State University at Fullerton, University of Rochester, and Southeastern.
